

What To Do If Someone Dies Suddenly!

1. Notify the Police who will then visit the location and conduct their investigation.
2. The officers will send the information to the Coroners Court for the Coroner/ Magistrate, who will request for an autopsy to be performed on the body at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital.
3. The family is then informed by the QEH of the date of the post mortem. The family member who will be going to the hospital on that date will be required to take their identification card as well as the decedent's identification card. The Pathologist will ask basic questions relating to the individual's death before the post mortem is performed.

What Happens After A Post Mortem

After the post mortem has been completed, the doctor will write his/her report to the Coroner who then gives permission to the hospital to have the body released to the funeral home of the family's choice.

And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.

Philippians Chapter 4 Verse 7

About Us

The Funeral Home was founded in 2006 by the late Jo-Anne Jones who sadly passed away in June 2011. Presently the Team Leader is James Wedderburn who is the first Olympic bronze medalist for Barbados.

Jo-Anne Jones
Founder

Over the years the Funeral Home has been a source of comfort to families in their time of bereavement. We are one of the most professional and reliable Funeral Homes on the island and our services also extend regionally and internationally.

James Wedderburn
Team Leader

We offer after care services where we continue to keep in contact with our clients who are now adopted into the Funeral Home family.

Our staff members are caring and experienced, having the understanding that each family is unique and with differing requests.

Other Resources

What To Do When Someone Dies At Home or A Nursing Home

1. Notify the Police.
2. Contact the deceased's medical Doctor, if they have been seen by their private Doctor within three months prior to their death and enquire of him/her if they are willing to write the medical certificate of death for that individual.
3. Notify the Police officers as to the Doctor's intent, and they will then seek permission for you to call the Funeral Home of your choice to remove the body.

What To Do When Someone Dies At The Hospital

1. A medical certificate of death is written by a doctor once he/she is satisfied that the person's condition has led to his /her death after 48 hours of stay on the Hospital ward.
2. An appointment is made at the Medical Death Record Section for the body to be released to the funeral home of your choice.
3. Always remember to walk with your identification card and the deceased's identification card as well.
